Meet Nick

Nick is a confident, driven, and resourceful teen! When asked about his perfect day, he responded, “being on a road trip, waking up in a hotel and hitting the road with my best friend.” However, in the regular day-to-day, he enjoys going to school, taking a good nap, and watching his favorite TV show, Supernatural. Nick loves to dream and plan for his future and would love to go to school to become a mechanic and eventually open up his own shop with his best friend. In the meantime, he would like to see and do as much as possible, starting with a trip to Disneyland.

Engaging and honest, Nick is quick to make friends and has the ability to make you feel like you have known each other for years! He is excited to be a part of a consistent, supportive community that will help him reach his goals.

The ideal family for Nick is a single mom or two-parent home where he can be the youngest child. The family also must be open to LGBTQ+. It would also be ideal for the family to be in Arizona so that he can maintain relationships with his siblings. Nick was born in 2005.
