Meet Gerardo “Junior”

Gerardo, better known as Junior, enjoys being around his friends, playing basketball, collecting sports cards, and playing video games.

Junior is a basketball fan; not only playing but also watching (especially the Golden State Warriors). Junior also appreciates spending time watching old-school shows, movies, and anime.

Junior does well in classes and keeps his grades above average. English and Math tend to be his strong suit.

Junior’s ideal family would be one who is active but also enjoys spending that time together inside. A family that will have structure would be good for him. He would be good in either a single-parent or two-parent household. An older brother or a similarly aged brother would be ideal as well as a younger sibling to whom he can be a role model. Pets are fine. The ideal family is one that will give Junior the time to warm up and be himself.

Junior was born in 2008.
