Robert's favorite classes are science and biology. He is very curious, creative, and enjoys learning new things pertaining to his interests. Robert likes sports and is interested in joining his school's baseball or track team.

Robert is searching for a family who understands the true meaning of love and commitment. He desires parents who are dependable and steadfast. Robert needs parents who will stand by his side through every challenge. He envisions a home filled with laughter, love, and shared adventures. Robert wants adoptive families to know that he is very loyal and that once he gets to know someone, he tends to be very protective over them. Robert would do best in a two-parent household with or without siblings. Robert prefers to remain in AZ due to maintaining contact with his siblings. A home without pets is best.
